2.6.1 - Teachers and students are aware of the stated Programme and course outcomes of the Programs offered by the institution.

Clearly defined learning outcomes are the core of educational planning and delivery at YSM. The alignment of Program Outcomes (overall knowledge, skills, and attitudes after completing the program), Program-Specific Outcomes (specific skills students should achieve by the end of the program), and Course Outcomes (disciplinary knowledge and abilities for each course) is crucial for a cohesive learning experience.

Faculty members in each department at YSM actively prepare their respective course plans that incorporate Program Outcomes, Program-Specific Outcomes, and Course Outcomes. It is ensured that these outcomes are aligned with the UGC Learning Outcome Curricular Framework (LOCF).

The college employs various communication channels, including the official website, student induction meetings, faculty meetings to disseminate them. Program Outcomes (POs), Program-Specific Outcomes (PSOs), and Course Outcomes (COs) are readily available on the college website for the reference of all stakeholders.

At the beginning of each semester, faculty members communicate course learning outcomes to students in class. This structured approach functions as a roadmap for both faculty and students, guiding them toward meaningful learning experiences rather than merely accumulating course credits.

In the academic year 2022-23, the college adopted a new curriculum following the implementation of the New Education Policy. Workshops were held for faculty members to help them implement the new course plans. These workshops were tailored to each department as new courses were introduced. During these workshops, faculty members collaborated to define program outcomes and program-specific outcomes for their departments, and afterward, they worked on outlining the specific learning outcomes for their respective courses. This process ensures a well-defined and purposeful educational experience for students.

- On College Website

The screenshot displays the website's interface for the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC). The header includes the college name and accreditation details. A navigation bar lists various site sections. The main content area is titled 'Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC)' and contains a sidebar with links to 'About IQAC', 'Quality Policy', 'Initiative of IQAC', 'NAAC Accreditation', 'Report', 'Academia', 'Academic Calendar', 'Best Practices', 'Seminar & Conferences', 'Important Days', and 'Institutional Policies'. The main content area is organized into a grid of subject-specific sections: Botany, Zoology, Physics, Chemistry, Mathematics, and History. Each section contains three buttons: 'Syllabus', 'Course Outcome', and 'POs & PSO'.

- Student Induction Meetings/Programs

Annual student induction meetings are meticulously organized, featuring well-planned sessions designed to familiarize students with their respective departments, various functional cells, and campus-wide codes of conduct. The Head of the Department enlightens students on learning outcomes during the departmental presentation.

In addition to the traditional orientation, specialized sessions on the New Education Policy (NEP) 2020 and Contemporary Education have been introduced since the adoption of the NEP curriculum. These sessions play a crucial role in familiarizing students with the evolving academic landscape and helping them adapt to the changing educational environment.
