BEST PRACTICE 02

1. TITLE OF THE PRACTICE

Digitizing academic and administrative activities for efficient and inclusive college operations.

2. OBJECTIVE

A technology-mediated ecosystem offers numerous benefits, primarily addressing challenges posed by the COVID-19 outbreak to ensure uninterrupted teaching and learning. The objective encompasses training faculty and students in ICT proficiency, fostering a connected and collaborative learning atmosphere, optimizing data management and analysis, and enhancing administrative efficiency through digitalization.

3. CONTEXT

The Covid-19 pandemic has significantly impacted education systems worldwide, forcing colleges to adapt to new ways of teaching and learning in order to ensure the continuity of educational activities. Our college, located in a semi-urban area, initially faced challenges related to technical know-how, availability and compatibility of multimedia aids, and internet connectivity for both teachers and learners.

Nevertheless, the college has been taking several initiatives to strengthen the IT Infrastructure. The college is a Wi-Fi-enabled campus and also boasts a Digital Knowledge Centre that houses various systems that are meant for easy access to students and faculty members. In an effort to provide further assistance, the college has provided laptops to faculty members, facilitating their engagement with digital teaching tools. Additionally, the college's dedicated IT Cell assists as well as conducts training programs to bridge the technology gap. Online tutorials, and ongoing technical support have helped students and faculty become familiar with digital platforms and processes. Engaging faculty members through effective communication meetings and involving them in decision-making processes has also helped overcome resistance and foster a positive environment for digitization.

Recognizing the importance of technology in education, the college has always prioritized upgrading its infrastructure, particularly focusing on IT infrastructure and hardware. This aligns with the goals set by the New Education Policy 2020, which highlights the transformative potential of technology in providing equitable and inclusive education to all students.

4. PRACTICE

In response to the challenges posed by the pandemic, the college embraced numerous initiatives under the umbrella of Academics. Post-pandemic also the college has been leveraging technology.

3. Communication and Meetings:

The college utilizes online platforms for communication with students, faculty, and university officials. Amid the pandemic, virtual meetings for IQAC, GBEC, and OMC were conducted, and even after the pandemic, several meetings continue to be scheduled online.

Online faculty meetings.

4. Official WhatsApp Groups/Telegram Channel:

The college manages various WhatsApp groups, each designated for specific purposes. For example, the YSM Notice Board is exclusively administered by designated members of the college who share notices, notifications, and office orders. Additionally, there is a WhatsApp group named YSM Academics/Exams, which serves as a platform for faculty members to document their daily academic activities. This group includes authorities and facilitates the sharing of pertinent academic details. Furthermore, the official Telegram channel boasts a membership exceeding 3400 individuals, and it serves as a channel for disseminating all relevant information.

11. EVIDENCE OF SUCCESS

The adoption of online learning platforms, video conferencing tools, and other digital resources ensured continuity of education for the students despite the physical closure of the campus due to the pandemic. The use of technology has also allowed for greater flexibility and accessibility, with students being able to access support services at their convenience. All student-centric activities commencing from application for admission to TC generation are being successfully executed online. The college has been conducting webinars by inviting experts from outside, thereby providing valuable learning opportunities for the students and the teachers without having to provide for the travel and accommodations for guest speakers. This has resulted in cost savings for the college and made it easier to schedule webinars at a time that is convenient for both the guest speaker and the audience. The college has functional MOUs with Shoolini University and Jharkhand Rai University. We have been leveraging technology to host joint events online. Digitization has enabled efficient data management and analysis. By digitizing academic and administrative processes, the college
