revolutionized the way we perceive currencies and how digital currencies are slowly taking over traditional currencies.

The presentation also covered digital currency's benefits and risks associated with it. Dr. Gupta emphasized that digital currencies can help reduce transaction costs, improve payment processing efficiency, and promote financial inclusion. However, he also highlighted the risks associated with digital currencies, such as security issues, lack of regulation, and the possibility of fraud and money laundering. Another crucial aspect covered in the webinar was blockchain technology. Dr. Gupta explained how blockchain technology is the backbone of digital currencies and how it has the potential to revolutionize the entire financial sector. He discussed how blockchain technology works, its advantages, and its applications.

The webinar witnessed participation from students and faculty members of different colleges, including YSM. The presentation on this contemporary topic kept the students glued to their screens, and they actively participated in the Q&A session that followed. The webinar was also streamed live through the official YouTube Channel of the college, allowing a broader audience to benefit from the knowledge shared by Dr. Gupta.
